A year-round VACATION

A Little Silver designer creates a home that feels like a vacation destination

For the painting over the fireplace Patricia Turchyn commissioned local artist Judy Stach to depict a scene that can be viewed from the deck of the house. The painting serves a practical as well as an artistic purpose. Painted on canvas, it rests on a board that hides a flat-screen television. Using a remote, the homeowners can raise the painting (behind the wall) to reveal the television.
